New Cannabis Regulations

Recreational cannabis is now legal in British Columbia. As you know from our previous Legislative Updates No. 2018-02 and No. 2018-03, the BC Cannabis Control and Licensing Act (CCLA) includes significant restrictions aimed at preventing access to cannabis by minors under age 19, including vicarious liability for boards of education and administrators for certain violations of the CCLA.

New regulations set out in the attached Cannabis Control Regulation provide further guidance on how the statutory restrictions on recreational cannabis in the CCLA apply to school districts, including:

- Employees or students are exempt from the prohibition on consumption in/on school property if the following conditions are met:
  - The cannabis possessed and consumed is medical cannabis
  - The employee or student carries proof of authority<sup>1</sup> to possess medical cannabis (or in the case of a student, the proof is on file with the school principal, superintendent, or board)
  - The employee or minor student's parent/guardian has notified the school's principal, superintendent, or board of their authority to possess medical cannabis
  - The employee or student's health care practitioner directs consumption of cannabis at intervals which overlap with regular school hours, activities or events
  - The employee or student does not smoke or vape the cannabis.<sup>2</sup>
- Cannabis must not be consumed on or in school property or a sidewalk, boulevard, or similar that abuts school property and a highway (i.e., any road, street, lane, or right of way used or intended for passage of vehicles by the general public).<sup>3</sup>

Further Guidance

BCPSEA has updated the attached Impairing Substances in the Workplace Toolkit, made available earlier this month to reflect these regulatory changes. You can find further guidance online from the Government of British Columbia on all regulations related to cannabis.
